

Jean Peatkau constantly puts people first in her storytelling: focusing on patients who are suffering due to the family doctor shortage and showing how psychedelics can help with mental health issues, for example. In her spare time, she supports her daughter's Orange Shirt Day campaign, pushing reconciliation in Greater Victoria.