

Cynthia Ramsay has devoted almost her entire working life to British Columbia's Jewish newspaper, the Jewish Independent. Maintaining the high community and journalistic standards of the 92-year-old institution, Cynthia has made the paper more inclusive and diverse, modernized it technologically and esthetically, and broadened its impact and reach.